NOTE: 1. For the purpose of this Explanation, 'employment under a co-operative society' includes the holding of any office, whether elective or otherwise, such as that of President, Chairman, Manager, Secretary, Treasurer and the like, by whatever name called in such society.

2. For the purpose of this sub-rule the expression "the date of retirement" in relation to a pensioner re-employed after retirement, without any break either in a Class I post under the Central Government, or in an equivalent post under a State Government, shall mean the date on which such pensioner finally ceases to be so re-employed in Government service.

- (iii) whether there is conflict of interest between policies of the office(s) held by the pensioner during the last three years and the interest represented or work undertaken by the organisations he proposes to join. Such conflict of interest, however, should not be interpreted narrowly to mean normal economic competition with Government or its Undertakings,
- (iv) whether the service record of the pensioner is clear, particularly with respect to integrity and dealings with Non-Government Organisations,
- (v) the emoluments offered by the proposed employer to the pensioner and whether the proposed emoluments and pecuniary benefits are far in excess of those currently prevalent in the Industry. (2) If the Accounts Officer considers it likely that, in a case contemplated under sub-rule (1), the member of the service would be entitled to gratuity only, one-sixth of the amount of gratuity which, after the most careful summary investigation that the Accounts Officer can make without delay, he believes the member of the service to be entitled shall upon a similar declaration, be disbursed to him monthly until the amount is finally settled or for six months, whichever period is less.

(3) The payment of the anticipatory pension or gratuity shall be so arranged that it is not delayed beyond the first of the month following the month in which the member of the service is due to retire.

(4) If, upon the completion of regular investigation, it be found that the pension thus summarily assigned differs from the pension finally settled, the difference shall be adjusted in the first payment after such final settlement:

Provided that if a gratuity summarily assigned under sub-rule (2) proves to be larger than the amount finally settled, the retired member of the service shall not be required to refund any excess actually paid to him unless otherwise decided by the State Government.

(5) Subject to the general condition prescribed above the anticipatory payment of death-cum-retirement gratuity and family pension may also be sanctioned to the extent of 3/4 ths of the amounts clearly admissible on the basis of the qualifying service as verified upon to the date of sanction, and after a declaration in the form given in Schedule ' I ' has been signed by the recipient.

It would not be permissible for a High Court Judge to revise his decision after he has once made it under the proviso stated above. The papers relating to his election should be kept with the Accounts Officer, i.e., the Accountant-General of the State.

(Government of India, Ministry of Home Affairs. Letter No. 11/53/54- Judicial, dated. 8th August 1955, addressed to all State Governments dated G.I.M.H.A. Letter No. 11/53/54- Judicial, dated 6th April 1956).

(2) The Government of India have, in consultation with the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India, prepared a form of application for settling the pension and/or gratuity claims of Judges of High Courts. (vide form appended to) Instructions for preparing the pension papers are set out on the top of the application form.

The Registrar of the High Court should prepare the pension papers and forward his report in the prescribed form to the Accountant-General six months in advance of the date on which the Judge is due to retire. The Accountant-General will verify the claim and forward his report to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Ministry of Home Affairs at least one month before the date of his retirement. The Accountant-General should send to the State Government and the Registrar of the High Court a copy of his letter addressed to the Government of India. Even if the provisional information so furnished does not involve any revision of the report, the Accountant-General will, as soon as the Judge retires, send to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Ministry of Home Affairs his final report as to the amount of pension and/or gratuity admissible to the Judge. It is only on receipt of this final report that the sanction of the President will be obtained and communicated by the Home Ministry to the State Government with a copy to the Accountant-General of the State concerned. The State Government should inform the Judge and the High Court.

(3) the words "the pension to which he is entitled under the ordinary rules of his service" in paragraph 2 of Part.III of the First Schedule to the High Court Judges (Conditions of Service) Act, 1954, refer to the quantum of pension and not to the age of superannuation or other conditions of service in regard to pensions. Since the pension has to be calculated on the basis of the emolument which he would have received in "his service" until his actual retirement as a Judge.
